As much as I would LOVE for the SAVE America Act to pass, I have little hope it will.

Democrats will never do it as unsecure elections keep them in power.

Republicans have NO BALLS and woke nuke the filibuster in order to save our country.

But mark my words: Democrats will not hesitate to nuke it so they can pack the Supreme Court, give DC statehood and pass nationwide mail in voting.

I am SICK of the Congressional GOP.

SAVE ACT: Democrat-controlled states have designed their voting systems to cheat. For example, Minnesota allows one registered voter to 'vouch' for eight other voters, so they don't need any sort of ID to register. We've got to pass the Save America Act now.

WALZ LETS EVERY VOTER VOUCH FOR 8 STRANGERS WITH NO ID

Minnesota law lets 1 registered voter vouch for up to 8 unregistered people at the polls, & those 8 never show qualifying ID. Attorney General Pam Bondi demanded the state's voter rolls in a January 2026 letter citing the practice. Tim Walz has kept the system in place.

MIDTERMS: The prediction market reflects the absolute frustration among Republicans that Thune decided not to pass the Save Act but instead to go on a 37-day vacation. From a pure race-by-race basis, I think this market is a buying opportunity. I still think the chances of the GOP holding the Senate are greater than 75%.

At this point, if you don't believe Democrats cheat to win elections it's because you don't WANT to believe that Democrats cheat to win elections.

How can you watch what just happened to Spencer Pratt in LA and believe this is, in any way, organic?

If a boatload of late mail-ins came in for the incumbent I could at least entertain the possibility that it was legit... but for a low-energy lady with zero name recognition in the area?

No way. If you think this is legitimate it's because you're in denial that the whole "Election Fraud" narrative is very real and not a "conspiracy theory."

This, by the way, is NOT to say that EVERY election is DECIDED by fraud, because that is not the case.

But there IS fraud in EVERY ELECTION to some extent... and sometimes it DOES decide the result... and we ALL, no matter the party, should be working extremely hard to root out as much of it as possible.

But as always, those who don't want the fraud to stop, are usually the ones committing the fraud.

It is obvious, at this point, who benefits from it and who doesn't. It needs to end.

Looking at you, @LeaderJohnThune. You can be a big part of righting the ship, or you can continue being spineless. The entire country is watching.

Pass the Save America Act and let's start cleaning up our elections.
